GENERAL INFORMATION

We have endeavoured to present a complete catalogue of the silver, copper and base metal coinages of the 19th Century, and to illustrate the principal or most interesting types. For many reasons gold coinages had to be omitted, and much descriptive matter was sacrificed in order to present actual pictures of coins which are more useful to the average collector.

In many cases it was found illogical to begin the listing of a coinage with the issues of the year 1801, as such an arrangement would have excluded some coins which cannot be disassociated from the coins actually struck in the 19th Century. Certain coinages of the 19th Century have been excluded due either to their obscure place in average collections or to lack of space in this volume, as in the case of the very extensive German series prior to 1871 and the Austrian issues before 1857. In general, coins of native type, tokens, and cut or counterstamped coins have been omitted.

A geographical arrangement of the contents presents the closely allied coinages in their proper sections and avoids the artificial groupings resulting from an alphabetical arrangement. A range of dates listed "1870-90" in the text does not necessarily mean that all dates within this period are known, but rather that the first and last dates have actually been seen.

Unless condition is stated, the values listed are for coins in average fine to very fine condition, suitable for a collection. In each instance they are for the commonest date and mint mark of each type. Uncirculated coins may be worth considerably more. Where a price is not given coin is rare and seldom offered.

ABBREVIATIONS

This chart of numerals will enable the collector to determine the dates found on most coins of the world. Many countries using Arabic or Persian numerals give the year in the Mohammedan Era or Era of the Hegira (A.H.). This begins on the 16th of July A.D. 622, the day following the flight of Mohammed from Mecca to Medina. The years of the Hegira are lunar years of 354 days. The year 1255 A.H. is equivalent to 1839 A.D. The Hegira date is rectified by taking 3 per cent. of it and subtracting it from 1255, then adding 622, for example:

$$\begin{array}{r}
 3\% \text{ of } 1255 = 37.65 \text{ (38)} \\
 1255 - 38 = 1217 \\
 + 622 \\
 \hline
 1839 \text{ A.D.}
 \end{array}$$

In India several different eras are used. The Samvat of Vikramaditya begins B.C. 57. The Saka Era of Salivahan begins A.D. 78 and the Nepalese Samvat Era dates from 880 A.D. The respective issues bearing these dates are mentioned as they occur in the text.

Three eras may be found on the coins of Siam. The first is the Buddhist Era (P.S.) Putta Sakarat, which begins B.C. 543 and is not used in the 19th century. The Chula Era (C.S.) Chula Sakarat, from 638 A.D., e.g. 1238 C.S. = 1876 A.D. The Bangkok Era (R.S.) Ratanakosin Sakarat, from 1781 A.D., e.g. 109 R.S. = 1890 A.D.

Some coins of the Chinese Empire bear the year of issue and are dated according to their system of the sexagenary cycle. Chinese dates read from right to left.

BRITISH DOLLARS

These dollars were issued for trading purposes in the Far East by the British Government. They bear no indication of the issuing country except the standing figure of Britannia in a fret border on the obverse. The denomination is in three languages. ONE DOLLAR on the obverse, and the equivalent of one dollar in Chinese and Malay in an ornamental frame on the reverse. They were distributed chiefly through the banks at Hong Kong, Singapore, Penang and Shanghai, and were struck for the most part at the Bombay Mint, occasionally at the Calcutta Mint and a few times since 1925 at the Royal Mint, London. They were first made in 1895. 3.50

2	大日本 DAI NIPPON	明治 MEIJI	十四年 JU-SHI-NEN
3	大日本 DAI NIPPON	明治 MEIJI	十年 JU-NEN

Dates and Legends on the Silver Yen.

The dates on Japanese coins are expressed, in terms of the Imperial Eras, of which there have been three in modern times,—MEIJI (1868-1911), TAISHO (1912-1925), and SHOWA (1926 . . .). On the silver 1-yen pieces the legends which are read outwardly from left to right, begin with the characters Dai Nippon, followed by the name of the Imperial Era. The numeral which follows designates the order of the year in the era and is accompanied by the character Nen (year). For example the legend of No. 1 is read Dai Nippon Meiji San Nen (Great Japan Meiji 3rd Year). Bearing in mind that the Meiji era began in 1868, the 3rd year of Meiji is equivalent to 1870. No. 8 is dated the 14th year of Meiji (1881) and No. 9 bears the date Meiji 10th year (1877). All of the silver yen were struck in the Meiji era with the exception of the issues of 1914-1915 (Taisho 3rd and 4th years).
